MESSAGE

PRESIDENT from the

Aloha!

Dig out your Hawaiian shirts and shake out those hula skirts...we're having a luau! Our June Fundraiser is coming up soon and it's going to be a fun filled afternoon for everyone in attendance.

Take a look around your house and see if you have any special items such as artwork, jewelry, theater tickets or anything of value that you or someone you know would like to donate to the club for our sensational MRWF Auction. We're looking forward to a great event featuring guest celebrities and politicians along with lots of prizes, games and entertainment.

We're all fighting for the same cause, which is why we're asking each of you to be a sponsor for this year's fundraiser. We are fighting for America's future. There's no mistake that our country is at war on many counts; war against terrorism, the rights of individual citizens and a cultural war that could change the way our children live in the future. As for me, I will fight in anyway that I can and the best way that I can do that is to be an active member of the MRWF and support it decisively.

Become a sponsor and come join us on June 22nd at Duke's Restaurant so that we can open a Republican Headquarters in Malibu and work together to register Republicans, get out the vote and get Republicans elected.

Thank you for your support,
Saundra J. McFadden

SUMMER READING LIST

Reclaim Your School

Brad and Susanne Dacus' first book, Reclaim Your School, is an excellent resource for anyone who desires to understand the ins and outs of evangelizing in the public school system. It presents ten easy steps on how best to approach the controversy of religion and education.

This vital resource includes suggestions for students, parents, teachers, ministers, and school boards. All people involved in any aspect of education will profit from this enlightening and easy-to-read book.

Reclaim Your School is available for a donation of any amount, with a minimum suggested donation of $10. Please call or write our office today to reserve your copy!

How to Create Conflict

High up on my list of annoyances are references to the United States as a democracy and the suggestion that Iraq should become a democracy. The word "democracy" appears in neither of our founding documents -- the Declaration of Independence nor the U.S. Constitution.

Our nation's founders had disdain for democracy and majority rule. James Madison, in Federalist Paper No. 10, said in a pure democracy, "there is nothing to check the inducement to sacrifice the weaker party or the obnoxious individual." During the 1787 Constitutional Convention, Edmund Randolph said that "in tracing these evils to their origin every man had found it in the turbulence and follies of democracy."

John Adams said, "Remember, democracy never lasts long. It soon wastes, exhausts, and murders itself. There was never a democracy yet that did not commit suicide." Chief Justice John Marshall added, "Between a balanced republic and a democracy, the difference is like that between order and chaos." The founders knew that a democracy would lead to the same kind of tyranny suffered under King George III. Their vision for us was a republic.

But let's cut to Iraq and President Bush's call for it to become a democracy. I can't think of a worse place to have a democracy -- majority rule. Iraq needs a republic like that envisioned by our founders -- decentralized and limited government power. In a republican form of government, there is rule of law. All citizens, including government officials, are accountable to the same laws. Government intervenes in civil society to protect its citizens against force and fraud but does not intervene in the cases of peaceable, voluntary exchange.

Democracy, what the Bush administration calls for, is different. In a democracy, the majority rules either directly or through its elected representatives. The law is whatever the government determines it to be. Laws aren't necessarily based upon reason but power. In other words, democracy is just another form of tyranny -- tyranny of the majority.

In Iraq, Arabs are about 75 percent of the population, Kurds about 20 percent and Turkomen and Assyrian the balance. Religiously, Shia are about 60 percent of the population, Sunni 35 percent with Christian and other religions making up the balance. If a majority-rule democracy emerges, given the longstanding hate and distrust among ethnic/religious groups, it's a recipe for conflict. The reason is quite simple. Majority rule is a zero-sum game with winners and losers, with winners having the power to impose their wills on the minority. Conflict emerges when the minority resists.

The ideal political model for Iraq is Switzerland's cantonal system. Historically, Switzerland, unlike most European countries, was made up of several different major ethnic groups -- Germans, French, Italians and Rhaeto-Romansh. Over the centuries, conflicts have arisen between these groups, who differ in language, religion (Catholic and Protestant) and culture. The resolution to the conflict was to allow the warring groups to govern themselves.

Switzerland has 26 cantons. The cantons are divided into about 3,000 communes. Switzerland's federal government controls only those interests common to all cantons -- national defense, foreign policy, railways and the like. All other matters are controlled by the individual cantons and communes. The Swiss cantonal system enables people of different ethnicity, language, culture and religion to live at peace with one another. As such, Switzerland's political system is well suited to an ethnically and religiously divided country such as Iraq.

By the way, for President Bush and others who insist on calling our country a democracy, should we change our pledge of allegiance to say "to the democracy, for which it stands," and should we rename "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" to "The Battle Hymn of the Democracy"?

MEXICO'S IMMIGRATION LAWS

A publication of the California Coalition for Immigration Reform

(Translated in layman language by an expert on Mexico's immigration laws, John Carman, former INS Customs Agent assigned to the U.S./Mexico border)

1. If you migrate to Mexico you must speak the native language.
2. You must be a professional or an investor. No unskilled workers allowed.
3. There will be no special bilingual programs in the schools, no special ballots for elections, all government business will be conducted in Spanish.
4. Foreigners will not have the right to vote regardless of time lived in Mexico.
5. Foreigners will never be able to hold political office.
6. Foreigners will not be a burden to the taxpayers. No welfare, no food stamps, no health care, or other government assistance programs.
7. Foreigners can invest in this country, but it must be an amount equal to 40,000 times the daily minimum wage.
8. If foreigners wish to purchase land, that may be approved, but options will be restricted. Foreigners are not allowed to purchase waterfront property-that is reserved for citizens naturally born in Mexico.
9. Foreigners may not protest; no demonstrations; no waving a foreign flag; no political organizing; no negative comments about the Mexican president or his policies. To do so is cause for immediate deportation to your country of origin.
10. Foreigners coming to Mexico illegally will be hunted down and sent to jail. Illegal aliens in Mexico are considered FELONS.

ACTION:

Send this to the President. Advise him to use Mexico law as his guide for US "comprehensive" immigration reform.

Who is Behind the Financing of Illegal Alien Activities?

By: Nancy Thomson

"It is the first responsibility of every citizen to question authority."- Benjamin Franklin

Internationally every country has the right to determine the quality and quantity of immigrants entering their borders on a temporary to permanent basis. This is no longer true in America. Immigrants around the world feel it is their right to enter our country illegally. Most of the immigration comes from the south of the border.

Let's put to rest misconceptions used by illegal aliens claiming the US stole the southwest or "Aztlant" from Mexico. The 1848 Treaty of Guadalupe Hildago was signed by both countries, with the US paying $15 million plus interest for the territory where Mexicans resided. Mostly native Indians lived in this area. It wasn't a Mexican settlement. Mexico made many demands; their citizens' rights were enumerated. But Mexico's main concern was that the US be responsible for rescuing any Mexican who remained in US territory and was kidnapped or harmed by the Indians! As for the Aztec people, they originally came from an area near Siberia. They never set foot into America.

The recent episode of thousands of students carrying foreign flags with repeated slogans spoken to the media, "no one is illegal, we work and pay taxes, we take jobs others won't do." The rule of law as expressed in our Republic has been replaced with democracy, or majority rule. This is what thousands of illegals have discovered. Many congressmen interpreted these mobs of people as a sign to grant them citizenship because there are so many of them!

Mexico needs the money sent home by their people working in this country. They also use immigration to get rid of their overpopulation problem. Thousands of Mexicans here in the US can swing elections and elect candidates. The Mexican government can count on immigrants to influence US politics in a way favorable to their country. Foundations like Ford, Rockefeller and Carnegie are part of the Council on Foreign Relations contingent engaged in promoting globalism. Globalists are using Mexico as a tool to bring America down to a more governable third world level. Globalism knows no borders and this eradicating the border with Mexico fits their agenda.

GET OUT AND VOTE: Primary Election Day June 6, 2006

Governor will veto SB 1437

CFRW has taken an "OPPOSE" position SB 1437, AB 606, and AB 1056.

According to today's Sacramento Bee, Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger has promised to veto SB 1437, one of three transsexual-bisexual-homosexual "education" bills in the California State Legislature.

All three bills rely upon the strange definition of "gender" in Penal Code, Section 422.56, reading: "Gender" means sex, and includes a person's gender identity and gender related appearance and behavior whether or not stereotypically associated with the person's assigned sex at birth.

-SB 1437 would prohibit textbooks, instructional materials, and school-sponsored activities from "reflecting adversely" on transsexuality, bisexuality, or homosexuality; it requires positive portrayals of these sexual lifestyles in curriculum in all grades in all public schools. Consequently, schools would have to promote "same-sex marriages" and even sex-change procedures.

-AB 606 would authorize the California Superintendent of Public Instruction to arbitrarily withhold state funds (around 2/3rds of a school district's budget) from any district that does not adequately promote transsexuality, bisexuality, or homosexuality in its school policies. The state Superintendent would have to develop new curriculum that affirms transsexuality, bisexuality, and homosexuality in all its forms.

-AB 1056 would spend $250,000 in taxpayer dollars to promote transsexual, bisexual, and homosexual lifestyles under the banner of "tolerance education."

Supreme Court Reinstates Exit Exam Graduation Requirement

California's Supreme Court reinstated the high school exit exam as a diploma requirement Wednesday, less than two weeks after a trial court handed the Class of 2006 a free pass. But the drama isn't over yet for the estimated 47,000 students - about 10 percent of the senior class -- caught up in an ongoing dispute over the exam's fairness. The Supreme Court sent the case to the state Court of Appeals, which it said was the appropriate forum to decide the question.

Ballot Measures Update

OPPOSE: Proposition 81: Library Bonds: Legislative Measure (SB 1161/Alpert/2003-04)

OPPOSE: Proposition 82: and "Preschool for All Act": Initiative Measure (Sponsor: Rob Reiner)
CFRW OPPOSES both of these ballot measures.

OPPOSE: HR 2672/S 853 North American Cooperative Security Act would implement the "Security and Prosperity Partnership of North America (SPP). Would allow Mexican trucks and legal Mexican drugs into our country. Open borders with Canada and Mexico.

SUPPORT: HR 997 Steve king English Language Unity Act. English would be the official language of the US.

SUPPORT: HR 1146 to get US out of the UN

SUPPORT: HR 698 to end the birthright citizenship to children born of illegal alien parents.

NEWS & NOTES

Well done, Malibu Republicans! You did an amazing job! Thank You for the Spring Packing Party

Submitted by: Cinde Linke

We had a tremendously successful packing party May 4th for our soldiers in Iraq and Afghanistan thanks to the generosity and dedication of our members. About 20 wonderful, hard-working patriots showed up and spent the morning making 350 delightful and useful care packages- that's enough for seven platoons of 50 men each! We had many donations of items like shampoo, Chap Stick, candy, snacks, some beautiful American flag pens and lots and lots of Irish Spring soap. Also, we had "prayer squares" (which are quilt squares) all made by our members, school teachers and students.

They had embroidered messages on them like "My Hero," "Be Not Afraid," and "Liberty." We pinned a heart on each square with a poem that was signed by the person who sewed it. We had 102 prayer squares, all handmade, which represented over 300 hours of volunteer labor for our beloved troops.

The inspiring letters (which go to every soldier), came from kindergarten students, Ken Starr, our members, and their friends and family. This time we had a first – the UCLA Girls' Varsity Volley Ball team (who are gorgeous, by the way) wrote letters on big UCLA post cards and so did some members of the UCLA championship Men's Soccer team. I'm sure they loved these.

As this is an ongoing project; necessity items, prayer squares and letters can be turned in at any time – just bring them to the meeting or call Cindy Linke, 457-4510.
